Storage Solutions from Node4

Ensuring your business is protected by a quality backup system is imperative to the smooth running of your business in the unpredictable event of data loss. Node4 can provide Storage Area Network (SAN) solutions to their colocation and hosting customers but also to any other business who would like to safe-guard their company data.

As a Dell EqualLogic partner, Node4 have the ability to tap into the fastest growing iSCSI SAN market, and so are able to implement proven, affordable networked storage solutions for business of all sizes.

Node4's data storage solutions utilize the EqualLogic iSCSI SAN devices, which gives the technology and tools to build our affordable and easily manageable solution. The user can backup from a central storage pool, based in Node4's data centre, easing the operational burden of both backup and restore and enabling business continuity for users.

There is a choice of two SAN offerings from Node4, both including the following features:

- Hosted in Node4's N+1 resilient data centre
- Options for a dedicated, secure leased line or Ethernet circuit to your site to connect you with your SAN solution
- Easy access to your backed-up data, the SAN will appear as an extra drive on your existing computer system
- The chance to utilise Node4's off-site SAN storage facility.

Shared SAN Solution:

The Node4 shared SAN solution allows customers to back up a limited amount of data, perfect for the smaller business. This option reduces the amount of up-front costs for the business with just a small set-up charge. The monthly rental is charged per Gb of data storage.

Dedicated SAN Solution:

For additional piece of mind and larger data transfer needs, a dedicated SAN can be provided by Node4. Backing your business data up from a storage pool hosted centrally in Node4's Data Centre eases the operational burden of both backup and restore, enabling business continuity for users.

Benefits include:

- Affordable and easy to deploy
- Multiple application-consistent restore points
- Recovery in minutes
- Lower ongoing costs.
